

“My Acclaro” HubSpot Translation Connector

About the Connector

- ✓ Authenticates with HubSpot Accounts
- ✓ File picker for quick access to 'Website Pages, Landing Pages, Blogs, Emails & Files' that require translation
- ✓ No limits on uploaded content
- ✓ Automatically receive translated content back into HubSpot, eliminating error prone copy/paste processes
- ✓ Review, request necessary content updates & publish final versions of translated content when ready

Step 1

In My Acclaro, Activate the HubSpot Connector & Grant Access

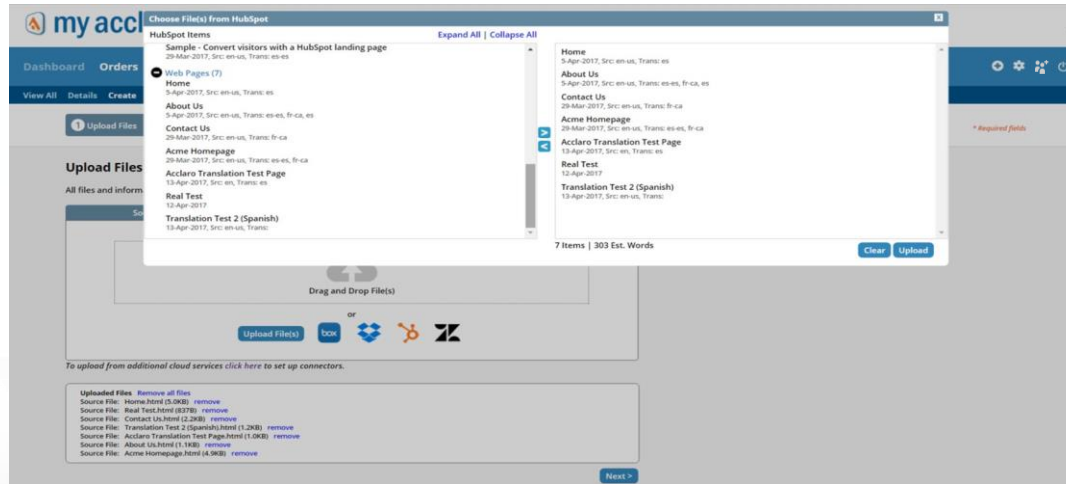

The image shows two overlapping screenshots from the My Acclaro web application.

The top screenshot displays the 'Connectors' page. The header includes the 'my acclaro' logo and the user name 'Ann Scott'. A navigation bar shows 'Dashboard', 'Orders', 'API', and 'Connectors'. The main content area is titled 'Content Connectors' and includes a sub-header: 'Activate and authorize third party services to enable content access from within your My Acclaro account. Your login credentials are never shared with Acclaro.' Below this, there are two sections: 'Activated Connectors' and 'Available Connectors'. The 'Activated Connectors' section lists 'Box', 'Dropbox', 'HubSpot', and 'Zendesk', each with a green 'Activated' button. The 'Available Connectors' section lists 'FTP' and 'Plugins', with 'Plugins' expanded to show 'Adobe Experience Manager', 'Craft CMS', 'Drupal', and 'WordPress'.

The bottom screenshot shows a 'Request for Integration Permissions' dialog for HubSpot. It features the HubSpot logo and the title 'Request for Integration Permissions'. Below the title, it says 'My Acclaro - Production (write access to)'. There are three permission categories, each with a gear icon and a description: 'User and Account Information' (includes access to read information about the user and account), 'Read from and write to my Files' (includes access to file manager), and 'Read from and write to my Content' (includes sites, landing pages, CTA, email, blog, campaigns). At the bottom, there is a red 'Grant access' button.

Step 4

Automatically Receive Translations Back in HubSpot Content Areas

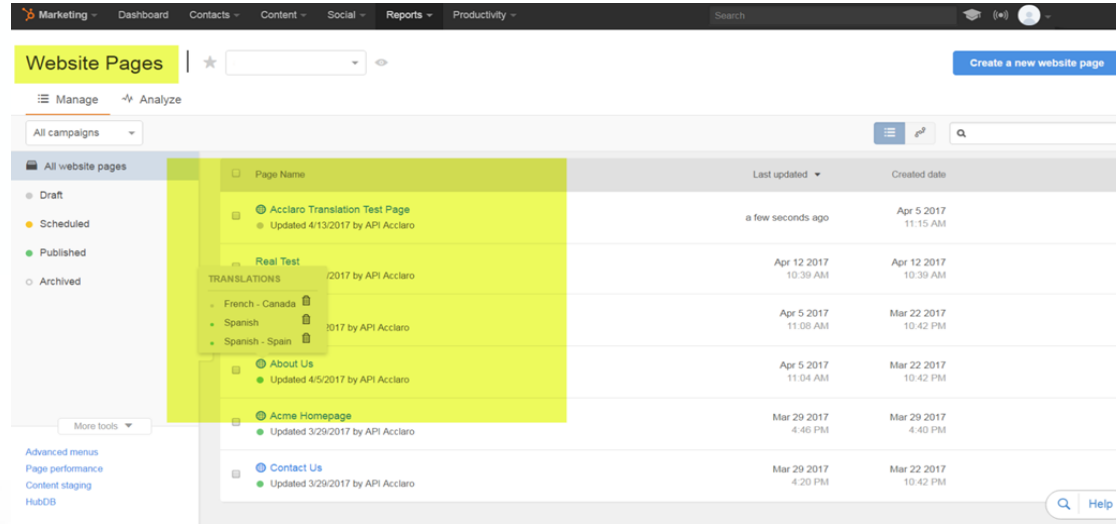

HubSpot Email Translations

HubSpot Website Page Translations

The screenshot displays the HubSpot Website Pages management interface. The top navigation bar includes links for Marketing, Dashboard, Contacts, Content, Social, Reports, and Productivity. The main header shows 'Website Pages' with a star icon and a 'Create a new website page' button. Below this, there are tabs for 'Manage' and 'Analyze', and a dropdown for 'All campaigns'. A sidebar on the left lists 'All website pages' with filters for Draft, Scheduled, Published, and Archived. The main content area shows a table of website pages. A yellow overlay highlights a section of the table, showing a 'Real Test' page with translations for French - Canada, Spanish, and Spanish - Spain. The table columns are 'Page Name', 'Last updated', and 'Created date'.

HubSpot Landing Page Translations

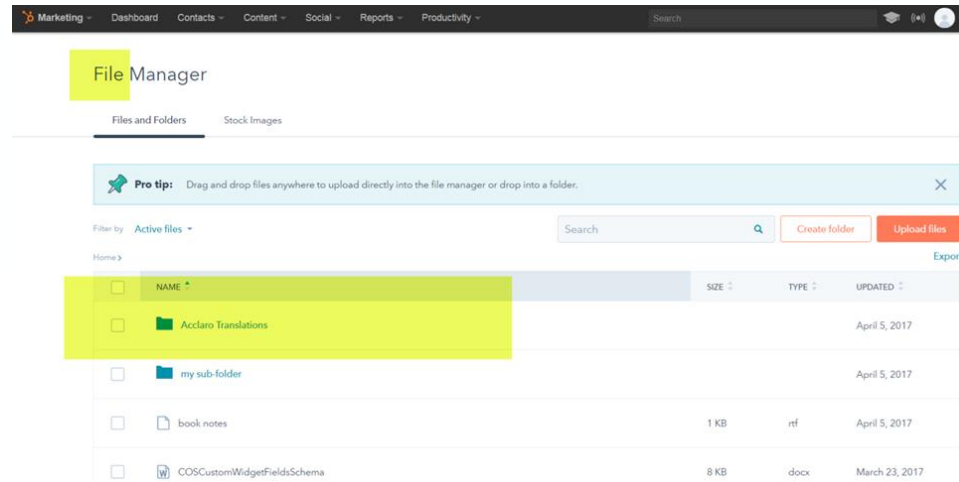

HubSpot Blog Translations

The screenshot displays the HubSpot Blog Translations interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with tabs for Marketing, Dashboard, Contacts, Content, Social, Reports, and Productivity. Below this, the 'Blog' section is active, showing a 'Default HubSpot Blog' dropdown and a 'New blog post' button. The main content area is divided into 'Manage' and 'Analyze' tabs, with 'Manage' selected. Under 'Manage', there are filters for 'All authors', 'All blueprints', 'All campaigns', and 'All topics'. A sidebar on the left lists 'COMPOSITIONS' (In progress) and 'POSTS' (All blog posts, Drafts, Scheduled, Published, Archived). The main table lists blog posts with columns for Name, Last updated, and Created. The first two rows are highlighted in yellow, indicating they are drafts.

HubSpot File Translations
